New York Post said that Swedish porn king Berth Milton Jr. — who in the 1990s built a pornography empire in Europe called Private Media Group that became a publicly traded corporation on the Nasdaq — has been ousted from the helm of the company.

After being stripped of his CEO title last week, Milton said he'll have his revenge on the big screen.

"A lot of people should be very scared about this movie — famous people, wealthy people, politicians," Milton told The Post .

"Even I myself won't look that good," Milton added. "But I don't care — it will be the truth."

The movie is being described like a cross between 'Boogie Nights' and 'The Godfather'.

The Securities and Exchange Commission filing confirms that Berth Milton had been "terminated" as the company's president and CEO. Milton had been on indefinite suspension since mid December.

Private magazine was established in Stockholm, Sweden, in 1965 as the world's first full-color hardcore magazine by Berth Milton, Sr.
